Bringing your group to camp affords great benefits over meeting in a familiar setting

- ◆ Interruptions are eliminated permitting your participants to focus on the mission at hand.
- ◆ Meeting in a natural rustic setting is relaxing and allows the creative juices to flow.
- ◆ Horseback Riding and other nature partnerships abound
- ◆ Brainstorming and pooling of ideas is enhanced in this environment
- ◆ Groups scheduled May through September can enhance their experience by using camp staff to supervise at the pool, lead butt-surfing or dam building in the creek and serve meals.
